It is the new work of the street artist Laika that appeared last night in piazzale Ostiense, next to the metro, in Rome. “It is a dramatic 8 March. The war that is raging – says Laika – particularly affects women and children, civilian victims number in the tens of thousands, after years of conflict that began in 2014 and which has escalated in recent weeks. devastating. Ukrainian and Russian women are united by the atrocities they are undergoing. Who has lost their home, who has a husband, a child, who has their own life in a war between brotherly peoples who, all of a sudden, find themselves enemies for the economic and political interests of those who govern them. And then we get the images of the peace negotiations in which not even a woman is present. Today I want to celebrate all Russian and Ukrainian women because – she concludes – none of them would have wanted this war “.

The moving truck and Sergio Mattarella chasing him asking to go back. This is the new mural of the artist Laika that appeared last night in Rome, in via della Cordonata, a few steps from the Quirinale. In the work, with the title «Trasloco Bis», the outgoing – and incoming – president runs after the van that has just left, shouting to go back. «Better to focus on the one thing about this business that made me smile – the artist's comment -. At the ripe old age of 80, the president has moved more than one out of office student ».

Pride Rome in Piazza Vittorio, between “Pride and Ostentation” – Corriere.it

LOCAL NEWS Deborah News about 23 hours ago REPORT

Pride Rome in Piazza Vittorio, between “Pride and Ostentation” – Corriere.it

The opening banner, and also the slogan of the Roma Pride, in Piazza Vittorio in the heart of the neighborhood Esquilino, is “Pride and ostentation”, but flanked by many who reply to the Vatican’s objections to the Zan bill, including: “For the secularity of the state we abolish the concordat”.

«Pride – explain the organizers – because no moment of crisis can stop the pride of the Lgbtqia + community. Ostentation because no “adversary” can attempt to “normalize” the subjectivities, relationships, bodies of the community. Roma Pride is ostentation, it is pride, it is lotta. This year’s political document also focuses on need to find a new normal, different from what we feel we have lost because of the pandemic. Finding oneself means rediscovering spaces and making them passable and knowable. The goal of this Pride is to be able to reinscribe an inclusive world, in which the violence, hatred, l’obscurantism are just a bad dream».

«And instead the current situation, just think of the Zan bill, takes us back too many years, years in which our community was marginalized, isolated, judged. – he claims Claudio Mazzella, spokesperson for Roma Pride – We feel the duty to remember that no one has to ask permission to determine one’s life. Happiness is a right that should not be mistaken for any “good rule”. We can no longer be afraid of living in the open, we are no longer willing to sacrifice our dignity to have pieces of rights in exchange, because rights cannot be a bargaining chip. For this, we do not hide, for this we want to return to the streets with “pride and ostentation”. There street artist Laika, dedicated a new mural to the rainbow community on the day of Pride: the kiss between two swiss guards of the Vatican. The reference to the controversy surrounding the Zan bill is clear.

Başkentte İtalya Futbol Federasyonu (FIGC) merkez binasının arkasındaki Giulio Caccini sokağındaki bir duvara, Avrupa Süper Ligi'nin kurucularından Juventus Başkanı Agnelli'yi futbol topunu bıçaklarken tasvir eden bir resmi çizildi. Sokaktan geçenlerin resmin fotoğrafını çektiği görüldü.

Duvar resmini dün gece çizdiği belirtilen Laika MCMLIV isimli sanatçı, İtalyan basınına yaptığı açıklamada, "Sadece zengin kulüplere özel, onların davet edildiği bir lig, taraftarların ve tüm dünyanın hayallerinin ölümüdür. Bu aynı zamanda futbolun ölümüdür." ifadesini kullandı.

İngiltere'den Arsenal, Manchester United, Chelsea, Liverpool, Manchester City, Tottenham, İtalya'dan Milan, Inter ve Juventus, İspanya'dan Atletico Madrid, Barcelona ve Real Madrid kulüpleri, 19 Nisan gecesi yaptıkları ortak açıklamayla Avrupa Süper Ligi'ni kurma kararı aldıklarını duyurmuştu.

Futbolun en üst kurumları Avrupa Futbol Federasyonları Birliği (UEFA) ve Uluslararası Futbol Federasyonları Birliği (FIFA), bu girişime çok sert tepki göstermişti.

Söz konusu projeye dahil olan İngiliz takımları, dün tek tek Avrupa Süper Ligi'nden çekildiklerini açıklarken, bugün de İspanya'nın Atletico Madrid, İtalya'nın Inter ve Milan takımları projeden ayrıldıklarını duyurmuşlardı.

ROMA (AA) – Futbolda Avrupa Süper Ligi girişimini başlatan 12 kulüpten biri olan Juventus'un başkanı Andrea Agnelli'ye tepki olarak Roma'ya bir duvar resmi çizildi.

Başkentte İtalya Futbol Federasyonu (FIGC) merkez binasının arkasındaki Giulio Caccini sokağındaki bir duvara, Avrupa Süper Ligi'nin kurucularından Juventus Başkanı

Agnelli'yi futbol topunu bıçaklarken tasvir eden bir resmi çizildi. Sokaktan geçenlerin resmin fotoğrafını çektiği görüldü.

Duvar resmini dün gece çizdiği belirtilen Laika MCMLIV isimli sanatçı, İtalyan basınına yaptığı açıklamada, "Sadece zengin kulüplere özel, onların davet edildiği bir lig, taraftarların ve tüm dünyanın hayallerinin ölümüdür. Bu aynı zamanda futbolun ölümüdür." ifadesini kullandı.

İngiltere'den Arsenal, Manchester United, Chelsea, Liverpool, Manchester City, Tottenham, İtalya'dan Milan, Inter ve Juventus, İspanya'dan Atletico Madrid, Barcelona ve Real Madrid kulüpleri, 19 Nisan gecesi yaptıkları ortak açıklamayla Avrupa Süper Ligi'ni kurma kararı aldıklarını duyurmuştu.

Futbolun en üst kurumları Avrupa Futbol Federasyonları Birliği (UEFA) ve Uluslararası Futbol Federasyonları Birliği (FIFA), bu girişime çok sert tepki göstermişti.

Söz konusu projeye dahil olan İngiliz takımları, dün tek tek Avrupa Süper Ligi'nden çekildiklerini açıklarken, bugün de İspanya'nın Atletico Madrid, İtalya'nın Inter ve Milan takımları projeden ayrıldıklarını duyurmuşlardı.

Феновете на Ювентус: "Не" на Суперлигата... Срам за вас

Феновете на Ювентус изразиха негодуванието си от решението на клуба да бъде част от създаването на европейска Суперлига. Улграсите издигнаха два банера в близост до "Алианц Стейдиъм" преди снощния мач срещу Парма. И двата бяха насочени към президента на "бианконерите" Андреа Аниели. "Нашата история не бива да бъде окаляна, изтъргувана и комерсиализирана. Ние сме Ювентус. "Не" на Суперлигата... Срам за вас!", пишеше на първия банер, издигнат от групировката "Викинг". "Сметки на червено, дефицит и Суперлига, явно не ти пука за феновете!", бе надписът на втория банер

Мменно в Рим се появи картина, нарисувана от уличния артист Laika MCMLIV, точно зад централата на Италианската футболна федерация. На нея се вижда президентът на Юве Андреа Аниели, който пробожда футболна топка с нож.

Mural predsjednika Juventusa osvanuo u Rimu: Navijači su rekli svoje

Jasno je na šta su mislili s ovim

Predsjednik Juventusa, Andrea Agnelli, našao se na velikom udaru fudbalske javnosti jer je podržao osnivanje Superlige.

Najbogatiji klubovi u Evropi u nedjelju su objavili da su osnovali novo takmičenje koje će biti zamjena za Ligu prvaka. Superliga je osnovana kako bi klubovi inkasirali dosta više novca nego što dobijaju od UEFA-inih takmičenja, ali taj projekat im nije prošao.

Fudbalska javnost bila je šokirana odlukom da pojedini klubovi osnuju novo takmičenje, a navijači su izvršili veliki pritisak zbog čega je većina klubova odustala samo dan kasnije.

Na velikom udaru kritika našao se predsjednik Juventusa koji je uz Fiorentina Pereza bio jedan od glavnih osnivača Superlige. Agnelli je htio da Stara dama igra u ovom takmičenju i još uvijek ne odustaje od ove ideje iako se njegov klub povukao danas.

Jučer su pojedini mediji na Apeninima objavili da je Agnelli čak podnio ostavku na mjesto predsjednika Juventusa, ali se to nije desilo.

No, čini se da je navijačima u Italiji itekako zasmetalo što su Juventus, Inter i Milan pristali da budu dio Superlige koja bi sigurno naštetila ostalim klubovima u Italiji. Najviše su ljuti na Agnellija koji još uvijek ne odustaje od ideje Superlige.

U Rimu je danas osvanuo i mural predsjednika Juventusa koji nije prikazan u najboljem svjetlu. Naime, na muralu se vidi kako Agnelli drži nož kojim "probada" loptu, odnosno u prevodu "ubija fudbal".

Mural shows Juventus chairman stabbing soccer ball with knife

16:56 April 22, 2021 AA

The ITALIAN INSIDER

Laika with one of her posters

BIHAC - The Italian street artist Laika has unveiled a series of posters on the Croatian - Bosnian border speaking out against the conditions of the migrants held there, and the inaction of the EU.

The four artworks have been placed in Bosnian migrant camps at Lipa and Miral, at makeshift migrant shelters around Bihac and Velika Kladusa, and in the forests around the border where they attempt the crossing.

The artist, named after the first dog in space, has said, "I wanted to see with my own eyes the conditions of thousands of people stranded at the gates of Europe. Cold, lack of food, water, and police brutality is what you find when you attempt to enter Croatia. This is the terrible routine of migrants on the Balkan route."

She continued, "There is nothing human about this sort of life. I have met people stuck in this hell for years, who have kept on fighting for their own future as well as their family's. These are women and men who come from the most diverse regions on the planet, whose stories must be told."

The artworks are addressed to the European Union and seek to make a few straightforward demands - to welcome these people into Europe and guarantee them human living conditions, to put an end to the violence inflicted by these European countries on their own citizens and to break up human trafficking networks.

"European citizens cannot accept that such human rights violations take place deliberately. Allowing this to happen means being accomplices in a violence that does not have a place among EU values. A strong stand would heal those painful scars. Remaining silent, however, turns us into accomplices. My posters are dedicated to them. To migrants, for migrants, posted in migrants' places."

The Rome based artist concluded by saying, "I hope my actions can give a voice to the people I met. Life is not a game."

Laika, 4 works by the Street Artist to say enough to violence

A man from behind with his back scarred by the blows of the border police, whose scars form the letters EU; a child with frozen tears; a woman who asks for help from Von der Leyen who, however, does not seem to listen; a little girl jumping a barbed wire rope.

These are the scenes depicted in the four works of Laika, the Italian street artist who this week went to the border between Bosnia and Croatia, in the towns of Lipa, Bihac and Velika Kladusa, in the Canton of Una Sana, to tell, through her posters, the conditions in which migrants find themselves.

"I wanted to see with my own eyes what were the conditions of thousands of people stranded at the gates of Europe. Cold, scarcity of food and water and violence by the police every time you try to enter Croatia: this is the terrible routine of migrants on the Balkan route. There is nothing human about living like this "says the artist.

"I have met people stuck in this hell for years, who continue to fight for their future and that of their family. Men and women from the most diverse regions of the planet whose stories need to be told. Stories like Ahmed's coming from Pakistan and has been stuck in Bosnia for five years and dreams of working in a hotel, or that of Brahim, a Berber boy who fled Algeria, who angrily recounts the experience of pushbacks, illegal repatriations, in Trieste ", he Laika explained.

The series of posters was posted in some symbolic places that represent the lives of migrants such as makeshift shelters, border woods, the Lipa camp and the Miral camp.

Laika's works are a warning to the European Union and ask for few but clear-cut things: "welcome these people and guarantee them human living conditions, punish and stop the violence of those European states that rage against their bodies and, above all, break the network of human trafficking ".

La artista callejera romana Laika, conocida como la “Banksy italiana”, dedicó su última obra a la legalización del aborto en Argentina, con un póster dedicado al tema frente a la embajada argentina en Roma.

“Finalmente en Argentina ha terminado una batalla de décadas pero aún queda un largo camino por recorrer en el mundo”, resaltó Laika en diálogo con Télam, tras haber fijado su póster sobre la Via Torino, frente a la sede diplomática en la capital italiana.

Con fuerte énfasis en mantener su anonimato, Laika es una de las más reconocidas artistas callejeras de Italia y esta vez dedicó una versión propia del famosos poster “We can do it”, de la Segunda Guerra Mundial, dedicado a la aprobación de la ley de aborto en Argentina.

“Solo 60 países permiten el acceso libre y legal al aborto; solo el 37% de las mujeres en edad fértil viven en países donde el aborto está permitido sin prohibiciones. Hoy se celebra este importante hito para comenzar mañana aún más fuerte con la esperanza de que este viento de cambio sople en América del Sur”, agregó Laika, quien fijó su obra esta madrugada en las calles de Roma.

COVID-19 Murals: Inside the World of Pandemic-Inspired Street Art

Italy Street Art

At a time when street artists were focusing on common pandemic related themes, Italian street artist Laika took a different step and focused on the restaurant staff. Since eateries are now opening, Laika focused on a Chinese restaurant owner, Sonia, wearing a fully covered gown along with a face mask. Sonia's message in Italian translates to "There's an epidemic of ignorance going around... we must protect ourselves!" The artist tried to give a message that though the restaurants are opening, precautionary measures are still important. People working at the restaurant are equally affected by the pandemic. Thus, they are back to work but at risk and following new operating procedures.

Hungarian MP berates disgraced ex-MEP with a length of drainpipe

Shaun Walker in Budapest

It is the drainpipe that launched a thousand memes: the escape route used by József Szájer, who has resigned as an

MEP and member of Hungary's ruling rightwing Fidesz party, as he attempted to flee the scene after Belgian police raided a gay orgy he was attending.

After surfacing in internet jokes and street art, it even made a cameo appearance in the Hungarian parliament on Monday, as the opposition MP Zoltán Varga brandished a length of drainpipe at Fidesz MPs during a parliamentary session.

"Look in the mirror ... and if you are horrified at what you see and want to escape, I've brought you something familiar," he said.

While Belgian police raided the party because it broke coronavirus regulations, Szájer's involvement caused extra controversy because of the anti-LGBTQ+ policies of his government, headed by Viktor Orbán, the prime minister. Szájer had boasted of personally rewriting the constitution in 2011 to define marriage as an exclusively heterosexual institution.

"You say 'Family first' - nice slogan. But you forget to mention that when the family is not there, you're participating in orgies or visiting prostitutes," said Varga, referring to both the Szájer episode and an incident last year when a top regional Fidesz politician resigned after a video emerged of him taking part in an orgy on a yacht.

The actual drainpipe involved has been memorialised with a makeshift plaque mounted by Hungarians living in Brussels, featuring an image of Szájer's face and an inscription in both English and Hungarian. "The political career of József Szájer ... ended here when he tried to flee the authorities using this gutter," it read.

In Rome, a mural of Szájer has appeared, provocatively toasting him as Hungary's "new gay icon", apparently the work of the Italian street artist Laika. "I want a world where even Szájer can be free to live his sexuality the way he believes, without hiding from the eyes of his own party," the artist wrote on Instagram.

For Orbán's government, the episode has been no laughing matter, and came as the Hungarian prime minister threatens to veto the EU budget over plans to link some funds to a so-called rule-of-law mechanism.

Szájer admitted to attending "a house party" and apologised to his family, though he claimed the drugs had been planted on him. He has quit his job as an MEP and left Fidesz. Orbán said Szájer's actions were "unacceptable and indefensible".

Eskuin edo eskuin muturreko alderdi bateko kide bat, gizonzkoa, harrapatu dutela gay orgia batean? Noizkoa da albiste hori? Orain dela berrogei urtekoa, hogeia hamar, bost? Pasa den astekoa? Gaurkoa?

Déjà-vu sentazioa izan nuen jakitean József Szájer politikari hungariarra, Fidesz alderdi eskuin muturrekoa, Bruselan harrapatu zutela gay festa bero batean. Ez nioke nik ukatuko Szájer jaunari edozein orgiatan parte hartzeko eskubidea, jakina, baina, ballo kristau tradizionalen arabera, LGBTQ jendearen eskubideak murriztu eta oztopatzen ibiltzen dena (berak idatzi zuen Hungariako konstituzioan ezkontzarena) prest egongo beharko litzateke ondorio desatseginak bizitzeko. Szájer jaunak alderdia utzi zuen orgiarena plazara atera baino lehenago, nekatuta zegoela argudiatuz (egia izan daitekeena, orgiek asko nekatzen baitute), baina poliziak hainbat delitu leporatu dizkio: drogak edukitzea eta covid-19aren aurkako neurriak ez jarraitzea. Orgiak ez dira delitu, ez. Szájer jaunak ihes egin nahi izan zuen polizia etxera sartzen ikusi zuenean eta hoditeria erabili zuen; alferrik, polizia zain zuen kalean, eskuetan urratuak bai-no ez zituen lortu. Gaur egun hoditeria horretan, horma horretan ("rue des Pierres") kartel bat dago hungarieraz eta ingelesez eskuin muturreko politikariaren balentriak gogoratzeko. Agian hau irakurtzen ari zaretenean Hungariako gobernuak edo zerbitzu sekretuek kendu dute; agian ez, eskuin muturra hipokrita eta zinikoa da, baita ankerra ere. Erroman Laika izeneko kale-artistak kartel handi bat jarri du Szájer gay ikono berri moduan irudikatuz, gay.it webgunean ikus dezakezue. Webgunean bertan irakurriko duzue orgia hartan Poloniako eta Ukrainako politikari homofoboak ere ibili zirela, badirudi eskuin muturreko erretolika homofoboa berehala ahazten zalela Mendebaldeko Europa ustelduan. Bide batez, esaten denaren kontra Brusela beti iruditu zait oso hiri dibertigarria. József Szájer ez da azkena izango. Laster izango dugu beste homofobo baten gay-ibilaldien berri, politikari izan, epaile edo apezpiku. ●

Orgie à Bruxelles : Une œuvre en l'honneur de Jozsef Szajer « icône gay hongroise »

04/12/2020

Ph. Twitter

Une fresque murale qui dépeint l'ancien député européen Jozsef Szajer en harnais est apparue vendredi dans le « quartier gay » de Rome. Le membre du parti d'extrême-droite Fidesz de Viktor Orban, embourbé dans un scandale sexuel, y est érigé en « nouvelle icône gay hongroise ».

L'eurodéputé, membre du Parti populaire européen (PPE, centre-droit), avait, à la surprise générale, annoncé dimanche sa démission et son retrait de la vie politique après avoir été interpellé vendredi à Bruxelles lors d'une fête, enfreignant les règles sanitaires, et présentée, par son organisateur, comme une partouze impliquant 25 hommes.

M. Szajer a reconnu mardi avoir assisté à la fête privée bruxelloise, mais ni lui ni la police n'ont confirmé la nature de l'événement. L'avocat de 59 ans, un proche du Premier ministre hongrois Viktor Orban qui a contribué à la modification de la Constitution de son pays afin d'en renforcer les notions traditionalistes de famille et de genre, a également été verbalisé pour possession de drogue.

« Vous êtes aujourd'hui la nouvelle icône gay hongroise »

L'artiste de rue italienne Laika a représenté M. Szajer vêtu uniquement d'un harnais, le bras gauche tatoué du symbole national hongrois, orné des couleurs arc-en-ciel du mouvement LGBT. À l'arrière-plan de la fresque sont peints cinq hommes nus et le logo du parti de Viktor Orban.

Les militants LGTB hongrois ont longtemps accusé Jozsef Szajer de porter atteinte à leurs droits. « Je rêve d'un monde où même Szajer peut être libre de vivre sa sexualité comme il le pense, sans se cacher de son propre parti », a déclaré Laika dans une déclaration. « Merci Jozsef d'avoir porté un sérieux coup à l'intolérance. Vous êtes aujourd'hui la nouvelle icône gay hongroise. La prochaine fois, veuillez respecter les règles anti-Covid ! »

József Szájer, el político de ultraderecha cazado en una orgía en Bruselas, nuevo icono gay

08/12/2020 por Eva Rodríguez de Luis Dejar un comentario

La semana pasada una noticia de lo más curiosa corría como la espuma: un político era pillado en una redada en plena orgía, algo que si bien no es ilegal, sí que es cuanto menos poco recomendable en los tiempos que corren. Lo importante radica en dos hechos: que el político en cuestión era József Szájer, perteneciente al partido de ultraderecha Viktor Orban que actualmente gobierna en Hungría y que se encontraba en plena orgía gay. Su dimisión fue cuestión de horas, cuando ya se había destapado el asunto, pero ahora desde Italia se lo han tomado con humor y pretenden convertir a József Szájer en un icono gay.

József Szájer pertenece al partido Fidesz-Unión Cívica Húngara, el más votado en el país centroeuropeo y claramente de ultraderecha. Como cabe esperar en un partido de estas características, está en contra del matrimonio igualitario y muy a favor de recortar derechos a la comunidad LGTBIQ+. Tanto es así que József Szájer es conocido por redactar una nueva constitución para Hungría desde su iPad. Entre las joyas de la carta magna reformada allá por el 2010, cuando Orbán y los suyos llegaron al poder se encuentra esta:

Donde habla de proteger la institución del matrimonio como una unión entre un hombre y una mujer, lo que hace técnicamente imposible que personas del mismo sexo puedan optar a este derecho. Como os podéis imaginar, esta década no ha sido fácil para las personas LGTBIQ+ en Hungría, con propuestas como que solo parejas heterosexuales casadas puedan adoptar criaturas o a favor de no reconocer legalmente a las personas trans. Este caldo de cultivo promovido por el gobierno refuerza las agresiones y la discriminación.

Se han tomado tan en serio hacer la vida más difícil a las personas LGTBIQ+ que incluso amenazan con no formar parte de Eurovision por ser demasiado gay, siguiendo la tónica de países como Rusia.

El artista urbano italiano Laika ha decidido dar una vuelta de tuerca a esta surrealista situación – un clarísimo ejemplo de doble moral – y hacer de la herida una ácida crítica con el mural que corona este artículo y una leyenda: «The New Hungarian Gay Icon – Fk Orbàn, I Am What I Am»: el nuevo icono gay húngaro: que le jodan a Orbàn, yo soy lo que soy. En Thingiverse es posible incluso descargarse las plantillas para impresión en 3D.

NOVA GEJ IKONA" Osramočeni mađarski desničar posle gej bahanalija dobio mural: Iza njega nacrtano 5 GOLIH MUŠKARACA

U petak se u Rimu pojavio mural koji kao "novu mađarsku gej ikonu" slavi mađarskog desničarskog političara i bivšeg evroparlamentarca Jožefa Sajera kojeg je policija u Briselu zatekla na homoseksualnoj grupnoj zabavi. Osramočeni mađarski desničar dobio je mural u Rimu: "Hvala ti, Jožef!".

Sajer je prošle nedelje dao ostavku na mesto zastupnika u Evropskom parlamentu nakon što ga je belgijska policija privela zbog kršenja epidemioloških mera jer ga je zatekla na "seksualnoj zabavi" sa 25 muškaraca, kako ju je u medijima opisao muškarac koji je bio "domaćin" orgija.

Sajer je priznao da je bio na privatnoj zabavi u Briselu, ali ni on ni policija nisu potvrdili karakter događaja. Policija je kod njega našla i droge zabranjene zakonom.

Taj 59-godišnji mađarski advokat blizak je premijeru Viktoru Orbanu i imao je aktivnu ulogu u uključivanju tradicionalnih definicija porodice i pola u mađarski ustav.

Italijanski ulični umetnik pod pseudonimom Laika prikazao ga je golog, utegnutog samo u kaiševe, sa tetovažom mađarskog nacionalnog simbola u duginim bojama LGBT pokreta na levoj ruci.

Iza Sajera na slici je pet golih muškaraca, vidljivih od kukova na gore, i znak Orbanove stranke Fides, prenosi "Jutarnji list".

U petak se u Rimu pojavio mural koji kao “novu mađarsku gej ikonu” slavi mađarskog desničarskog političara i bivšeg evroparlamentarca Jožefa Sajera kojeg je policija u Briselu zatekla na homoseksualnoj grupnoj zabavi.

Osramoćeni mađarski desničar dobio je mural u Rimu: “Hvala ti, Jožef!”.

Sajer je prošle nedjelje dao ostavku na mjesto poslanika u Evropskom parlamentu nakon što ga je belgijska policija privela zbog kršenja epidemioloških mjera jer ga je zatekla na “seksualnoj zabavi” sa 25 muškaraca, kako ju je u medijima opisao muškarac koji je bio “domaćin” orgija.

Sajer je priznao da je bio na privatnoj zabavi u Briselu, ali ni on ni policija nisu potvrdili karakter događaja. Policija je kod njega našla i droge zabranjene zakonom. Taj 59-godišnji mađarski advokat blizak je premijeru Viktoru Orbanu i imao je aktivnu ulogu u uključivanju tradicionalnih definicija porodice i pola u mađarski ustav.

Italijanski ulični umjetnik pod pseudonimom Laika prikazao ga je golog, utegnutog samo u kaiševe, sa tetovažom mađarskog nacionalnog simbola u duginim bojama LGBT pokreta na lijevoj ruci. Iza Sajera na slici je pet golih muškaraca, vidljivih od kukova na gore, i znak Orbanove stranke Fides, prenosi Jutarnji list.

LGBT aktivisti u Mađarskoj već dugo optužuju Fides za napade na njihova prava. Mural se pojavio u blizini Koloseuma, na uglu ulice koju Rimljani nazivaju "gej ulicom" jer se u njoj nalazi nekoliko gej barova.

"Sanjam svijet gdje će Sajer biti slobodan da živi svoju seksualnost kako želi, bez sakrivanja od njegove stranke.

Hvala Josefu što je zadao snažan udarac netoleranciji. Od danas si ti nova mađarska gej ikona. Ali sljedećeg puta molim te da poštuješ anti-covid propise", poručio je Laika u izjavi.

A queda de um húngaro

A história de József Szájer, do ultra-conservador Fidesz, redator da Constituição de 2012 que discrimina homossexuais no acesso a direitos civis, apanhado numa orgia gay em pleno confinamento na Bélgica. E de como Orbán o deixou cair.

Na madrugada de 28 de novembro, a polícia irrompe por um apartamento situado sobre o bar Le Detour, a poucos metros da Grand Place, em Bruxelas. Dentro do apartamento estavam 25 homens, segundo o relato da polícia, nus e, entre eles, vários diplomatas e um eurodeputado húngaro. O caso daria apenas um pequeno escândalo, por os participantes na orgia estarem a violar ostensivamente as regras estritas anti-covid na Bélgica que obrigam ao recolher obrigatório e ao distanciamento social.

Mas à medida que os pormenores memoráveis foram sendo conhecidos, ao longo da semana, percebeu-se que a festa privada ilegal tocava o centro do Governo em Budapeste. E mostrava os contornos tortuosos do partido ultra-conservador húngaro no poder há uma década, o Fidesz . E, como aproveitou a oposição do Mouvement para denunciar, o escândalo ilustra a corrupção moral da elite no poder.

Former MEP Szájer became a gay icon in Italy

It seems like the scandal around former MEP József Szájer also inspired an Italian street artist. Laika painted József Szájer on an Fidesz logo in unusual clothing for a graffiti in Rome, which made the front page of the gay.it portal.

The former MEP is almost naked in the picture, having a Hungarian coat of arms on his left arm as a tattoo, which also includes a rainbow referring to the LGBTQI community. According to the analysis of Index, several naked men can be seen behind Szájer.

In Hungary, the Orbán government is literally declaring war on the LGBTQ community, they want to deprive them of all their rights the artist told Index. According to his confession, he dreams of a world where, for instance, József Szájer can experience his sexuality freely, without having to hide it from his own party.

I dream of a world where everyone, regardless of identity and sexual orientation, has the same rights in a society free of prejudice.

According to the artist, all people have the same rights.

I am grateful to you, József Szájer, for publicly living your gender identity and challenging intolerance. From today, you are the new gay icon.

Illegal sex party in Brussels: will roof escapist become a gay icon?

After an illegal sex party in Brussels: will the gutter escape now become a gay icon?

A street artist erects a memorial to MEP Jozsef Szajer, who was recently blown up at an illegal sex party in Brussels. And the gutter, which has become world-famous, is now decorated with a plaque.

Remo Hess, Brussels / Ch media

Jozsef Szajer was immediately disowned by his long-time friend Viktor Orban: his actions were "unacceptable" and "incompatible with the values of our political family", declared the Hungarian Prime Minister. The fact that Szajer resigned from the Fidesz ruling party, which he founded with Orban over 30 years ago, was "the only right decision," said Orban.

Orban left it open which "actions" he classified as "unacceptable". Was it the fact that Szajer was attending a sex party in Brussels, although the rules of the corona lockdown currently prohibit such? Was it the ecstasy pills that were found in his backpack? Was Orban minded that Szajer was trying to escape down a gutter when the police arrived?

Or was the problem for Orban more the fact that only men took part in the sex party, so it was a gay orgy? After all, Orban and Fidesz have been fighting for a traditional understanding of gender for years and are not afraid to restrict the rights of gays, lesbians and transgender people in Hungary.

This has now also been pointed out by an Italian street artist who Jozsef Szajer set a monument with a picture in Rome. "Jozsef Szajer: the new Hungarian gay icon" is the name of the work and shows the bearded EU parliamentarian with a bare torso and leather belt. His arm is decorated with a tattoo with a coat of arms in the colors of the rainbow family. In the background, the logo of Orban's Fidesz party and a group of naked men. «F  k Orban! I am what I am »-« Fuck Orban, I am what I am », reads the caption.

In her statement, Laika writes about her picture: "I wish for a world in which even Szajer can be free to live his sexuality as he believes, without having to hide from the eyes of his own party. Many thanks to Jozsef for the heavy blow against intolerance. From today you are the new Hungarian gay icon ».

Finally, the artist adds: "But next time respect the anti-corona rules!"

But not only in Rome, but also in Brussels itself, the Jozsef Szajer affair has now received a souvenir. The gutter, which has now become world-famous, was given a commemorative plaque by four Hungarians living in Brussels. It reads next to the photo of Jozsef Szajer: «This is where the political career of Jozsef Szajer, MEP of Fidesz and member of the European People's Party, ended when he ran over the gutter in front of the police after an illegal, ecstatic orgy during the Covid-19 pandemic tried to escape on November 27, 2020 ».

Une fresque murale représentant l'ex-député hongrois Jozsef Szajer, empêtré dans le scandale sexuel sobrement nommé «covid partouze» par les médias, est apparue dans le quartier gay de Rome. Le membre du parti d'extrême droite de Viktor Orban y est érigé en icône gay, torse nu et vêtu d'un harnais.

Nach illegaler Sexparty in Brüssel: Wird der Dachrinnen-Flüchter jetzt zur ungarischen Schwulenikone?

Eine Street-Art-Künstlerin setzt dem EU-Abgeordneten Jozsef Szajer, der kürzlich auf einer illegalen Sexparty in Brüssel aufgefliegen ist, ein Denkmal. Und auch die weltbekannt gewordene Dachrinne ist mittlerweile mit einer Plakette verziert.

Remo Hess, Brüssel 07.12.2020, 11.46 Uhr

Von seinem langjährigen Freund Viktor Orban wurde Jozsef Stajer umgehend verstossen: Seine Handlungen seien «inakzeptabel» und «mit den Werten unserer politischen Familie» nicht vereinbar, erklärte der ungarische Ministerpräsident. Dass Szajer aus der Fidesz-Regierungspartei ausgetreten ist, die er zusammen mit Orban vor über 30 Jahren gegründet hat, sei «die einzige richtige Entscheidung» gewesen, so Orban.

Welche «Handlungen» er aber genau als «inakzeptabel» klassifizierte, liess Orban offen. War es die Tatsache, dass Szajer an einer Sexparty in Brüssel teilnahm, obwohl die Regeln des Corona-Lockdown solche momentan verbieten? Waren es die Extasy-Pillen, die in seinem Rucksack gefunden wurden? Nahm Orban Anstoss daran, dass Szajer über eine Dachrinne zu flüchten versuchte, als die Polizei eintraf?

Oder lag das Problem für Orban doch eher darin, dass an der Sexparty ausschliesslich Männer teilnahmen, es sich also um eine Schwulen-Orgie handelte? Immerhin kämpfen Orban und Fidesz seit Jahren für ein traditionelle Geschlechterverständnis und schrecken nicht davor zurück, die Rechte von Schwulen, Lesben und transgender-Menschen in Ungarn einzuschränken.

Darauf wies nun auch eine italienische Street-Art Künstlerin hin, die Jozsef Szajer mit einem Bild in Rom ein Denkmal gesetzt hat. «Jozsef Szajer: die neue ungarische Schwulenikone» heisst das Werk und zeigt den bärtigen EU-Parlamentarier mit nacktem Oberkörper und Ledergurt. Sein Arm ziert eine Tätowierung mit einem Wappen in den Farben der Regenbogenfamilie. Im Hintergrund das Logo von Orbans Fidesz-Partei und eine Gruppe nackter Männer. «Fk Orban! I am what I am» - «Scheiss auf Orban, ich bin, was ich bin», lautet die Bildunterschrift.

In ihrer Erklärung schreibt Laika zu ihrem Bild: «Ich wünsche mir eine Welt, in der sogar Szajer frei sein kann, seine Sexualität so zu leben, wie er glaubt, ohne sich vor den Augen seiner eigenen Partei verstecken zu müssen. Vielen Dank an Jozsef für den schweren Schlag gegen die Intoleranz. Ab heute bist du die neue ungarische Schwulenikone». Zum Schluss fügt die Künstlerin noch hinzu: «Aber respektiere das nächste Mal die Anti-Corona-Regeln!»

Aber nicht nur in Rom, sondern auch in Brüssel selbst hat die Affäre um Jozsef Szajer nun ein Andenken bekommen. Die Dachrinne, die mittlerweile weltbekannt geworden ist, wurde von vier in Brüssel lebenden Ungaren mit einer Erinnerungsplakette versehen. Darauf zu lesen steht neben dem Foto von Jozsef Szajer: «Hier endete die politische Karriere von Jozsef Szajer, EU-Abgeordneter von Fidesz und Mitglied der Europäischen Volkspartei, als er über die Dachrinne vor der Polizei nach einer illegalen, mit Extasy versetzten Orgie während der Covid-19 Pandemie am 27 November 2020 zu flüchten versuchte».

Neben dem Manneken Pis, der Grand Place und dem Atomium hat Brüssel nun also eine weitere Touristenattraktion.

Viktor Orbáns Parteikollege und wichtigster Mann in Brüssel wurde beim Gangbang mit 25 Männern erwischt. So und platter die süffisanten Schlagzeilen und Posts aus den Medienhäusern der Welt in dieser Woche. Es eine Geschichte, von der eine queere Nachrichtenredaktion kaum zu träumen wagt und für deren Drehbuchumsetzung wohl nur arte oder Netflix in Frage kämen. Weil sie auf so vielschichtige Weise zeigt, was in dieser Gesellschaft falsch läuft. Und weil man* am Ende dieses verrückten Jahres beinahe die Hoffnung darauf verloren hätte, dass trotz Rechtsruck, Rollback oder „konservativer Wende“ am Ende die vernunftgeplagte und daher liberale Mehrheit die Oberhand behalten wird. Beinahe. Für Orban kommt sie wegen der Blockade des „Mechanismus zur Wahrung der Rechtsstaatlichkeit“ mehr als ungelegen, in Deutschland und Berlin beginnt der Wahlkampf. Deshalb ist die Geschichte von József Szájer unsere Geschichte der Woche – und vielleicht sogar die Geschichte des Jahres.

Wer ist József Szájer?

Die Künstlerin Laika bedankt sich mit einem Werk bei József Szájer für

... den schweren Schlag gegen die Intoleranz. Ab heute bist du die neue ungarische Schwulenikone. Aber respektiere das nächste Mal die Anti-Covid-Regeln!"

Niemand geringeres als Orbáns wichtigster Mann in Brüssel, ein Gründungsmitglied der ungarischen Regierungspartei Fidesz und maßgeblich verantwortlich für die neue Verfassung von 2011, die Familienwerte und Christentum als Grundpfeiler des Staates neu definierte und vormachte, was Polens Rechtspopulisten erfolgreich kopieren und sämtliche anderen EU-weit ihre Agenda nennen: Die freie Gesellschaft in eine interessengelenkte Oligarchie zu verwandeln. Eine der Änderungen in Ungarn damals: Die Ehe wurde als Bund zwischen Mann und Frau definiert.

József Szájer ist Familienvater: Mit seiner Frau Tünde Handó, einer prominenten Verfassungsrichterin, ist er seit 1983 verheiratet. Die beiden haben eine gemeinsame Tochter: Fanni wurde 1987 geboren. Der 59-Jährige war 16 Jahre lang Fidesz-Fraktionschef im Europaparlament. Bis 2019 war er Leiter der Delegation in der Fraktion der konservativen Europäischen Volkspartei (EVP), der auch CDU und CSU angehören. Am Sonntag gab der EU-Abgeordnete überraschend seinen Rücktritt bekannt. Er halte der psychischen Belastung nicht mehr stand.

„Seit einiger Zeit ist die Teilnahme am täglichen politischen Kampf eine zunehmende mentale Belastung für mich, und diejenigen auf dem Schlachtfeld müssen sich in einem Kampfstadium befinden.“

Familienvater bei Tag, Daddy bei Nacht

Eine interessante Darstellung. Und eine in solchen Fällen nach wiederkehrendem Muster zu erwartende Fortsetzung eines tragischen falschen Lebens im Falschen. Denn der Grund für die ganz akut nachvollziehbaren Belastungen ist die Teilnahme von Orbáns Verbündetem an einer privaten Party. In Zeiten von Corona: verboten. Darauf stehen laut Brüsseler Verordnungen Geldstrafen ab 250 Euro. Außerdem: Bei Szájer wurden Drogen gefunden, belgischen Medien zufolge Ecstasy. Und: An der Veranstaltung sollen 25 Männer beteiligt gewesen sein. Also nur Männer. Es war eine klassische schwule Sexparty.

Alles nach „Außerdem“ ist nach rund 150 Jahren harter Kämpfe gegen Kirchen, Ideologien und Mächtige in Deutschland und Europa eigentlich reine Privatangelegenheit des Herrn Szájer. Das ist genau jener gesellschaftliche Konsens, auf den sich auch konservative Parteien und Politiker*innen berufen, wenn sie von unseren gemeinsamen Werten sprechen. Ob und wie das in der Öffentlichkeit nun diskutierte mutmaßliche Doppelleben von József Szájer für ihn und seine Familie überhaupt eines war, entzieht sich unserer Kenntnis. Und das ist auch gut so. Eigentlich.

Die italienische Künstlerin und Queeraktivistin Laika verewigte Szajer in Rom. Dazu schreibt sie in einem Manifest: „Ich träume von einer Welt mit gleichen Rechten für alle, in der sich selbst jemand wie er nicht verstecken muss.“

Feuer frei auf Feinde der Freiheit

Bei allem Mitgefühl oder Verständnis für jene, die sich ob der immer noch bestehenden gesellschaftlichen Zwänge genötigt sehen, ihre Sexualität für sich behalten zu müssen, sind wir uns in der Redaktion einig: Wer aktiv daran mitarbeitet, die Stigmatisierung der Queercommunity voranzutreiben, um sich politisch zu profilieren und mehr noch, gegen die freie Gesellschaft agitiert obwohl er selber ihr Nutznießer ist, hat ihren beruhigenden Schutzschild verwirkt, wie Szájer seine parlamentarische Immunität wegen einer Ordnungswidrigkeit.

Nachdem wir immer noch darauf warten, dass Pornodarsteller Sean Harding in Sachen Lindsey Graham aus dem Knick kommt, wurde Orbáns homophober Parteikollege in Brüssel also mit heruntergelassenen Hosen erwischt. Göttlich.

Ein EU-Abgeordneter hängt hilflos an der Regenrinne

Die illegale Party soll in der Nacht von Freitag zu Samstag in einer Privatwohnung in der Brüsseler Innenstadt stattgefunden haben. Der Organisator der Party berichtete gegenüber der Zeitung Het Laatste Nieuws, plötzlich sei sein ganzes Wohnzimmer voller Polizisten gewesen.

„Sie fingen sofort an zu schreien: ‚Personalausweis! Jetzt!‘ Aber wir hatten nicht einmal Hosen an, wo in Gottes Namen hätten wir so schnell unseren Ausweis herbeizaubern sollen?“

Laut der Staatsanwaltschaft versuchte Szájer bei Ankunft der Polizei aus dem Fenster zu fliehen – und verletzte sich am Bein. Angeblich klammerte er sich dann mit blutigen Händen an eine Regenrinne. Wo sind eigentlich all die Gaffer mit Smartphones, wenn man sie mal braucht?

Aller verzweifelter Heldenmut nutzte nichts, Szájer wurde geschnappt. Woraufhin der Politiker tatsächlich versuchte, sich auf seine politische Immunität zu berufen. Die kann in solchen Fällen allerdings von einem EU-Ausschuss aufgehoben werden.

Der Vorfall beflügelt die Kreativität in sozialen Medien

Ausflüchte und Verschweigen für die kaputte heile Welt

Szájer versuchte in der Folge noch zu retten, was zu retten ist – das war aber nicht mehr allzu viel. Am Dienstag gab er zu, an einer „privaten Feier“ teilgenommen und damit gegen die Corona-Auflagen verstoßen zu haben. Er entschuldigte sich bei seiner Familie.

Und er verfasste ein Dementi zu den Drogenberichten: Sie seien zwar in seinem Rucksack gefunden worden, hätten ihm jedoch nicht gehört, so der 59-Jährige. Es ist eine Aussage, die Ungarns regierungsnahe Medien ohne Prüfung übernommen haben. Der Grund: Die Regierung hat 2013 eines der strengsten Drogengesetze Europas verabschiedet, das nicht nur den Handel mit, sondern auch den Konsum von Drogen kriminalisiert.

Auch wird der schwule Aspekt in den weitgehend gleichgeschalteten ungarischen Medien mit keinem Wort erwähnt. Durchgesickert sein dürfte er inzwischen Dank sozialen Medien und Blogs trotzdem. Und das kommt ungelegen.

Zeitpunkt für Orbán denkbar ungünstig

Es ist ein Skandal für den ungarischen Autokraten Orbán, den er nicht gebrauchen kann – hat er sich doch auf die Fahnen geschrieben, die Queercommunity weiter an den Rand der Gesellschaft zu drängen und sein Ungarn der Werte auch gegen die EU zu verteidigen. Erst im Mai hatte die Regierung die rechtliche Anerkennung von Transgendern ausgeschlossen (wir berichteten), im November kam ein Verfassungszusatz, der die Adoption für homosexuelle Paare unmöglich macht.

In einer Stellungnahme am Dienstag kritisierte Ungarns Ministerpräsident den EU-Abgeordneten dann auch scharf. Sein Handeln sei inakzeptabel, nicht zu rechtfertigen und entspreche nicht den Werten der Partei.

Erweitern

Allerdings betonte Orbán, die Verdienste seines Kumpels für Ungarn und seine 30 Jahre in der Politik des Landes und in Europa seien unvergesslich. Dennoch begrüßte er den Rücktritt und schickte seinen Verbündeten damit in den vorzeitigen Ruhestand. Auch die Fidesz-Delegation teilte diese Meinung:

„Er hat die einzig richtige Entscheidung getroffen.“

Übrigens: Bereits 2015 behauptete die demokratische und offen lesbische Politikerin Klára Ungár, dass Szájer und ein anderer Politiker schwul seien. Während der andere eine Verleumdungsklage anstrebte, reagierte Szájer nicht auf die Behauptungen. Wir wissen nun warum.

Glücksfall für die EU-Kommission

Die politischen Akteure und Unterstützer des sogenannten Rechtsstaatlichkeitsmechanismus der EU reagierten auf den Fall Szájer vernehmbar erleichtert.

Jens Geier, Chef der SPD-Abgeordneten im Europaparlament, fand klare Worte:

„An Heuchelei kaum zu überbieten ist, die Verfassung in Ungarn so zu schreiben, dass nur die Verbindung von Frau und Mann staatlich toleriert wird, sich selbst aber rauszunehmen, was man anderen versagt.“

Auch die Grünen-Abgeordnete Terry Reintke nutzte den Skandal, um ihre Meinung über die queerfeindliche Politik in Ungarn zu äußern:

„Szájer und seine Partei Fidesz haben jahrelang alles getan, um das Leben von queeren Menschen in Ungarn zur Hölle zu machen. Umso mehr sollte dieser Moment genutzt werden, um auf das schauen, was im Moment dort passiert: Das Orban-Regime setzt ihre LGBTI-feindliche Politik ungeachtet fort und plant weitere diskriminierende Verfassungsänderungen.“

Die ungarische Oppositionspartei DK schloss sich an. Der Vorsitzende der Partei, Ferenc Gyurcsány, zürnte:

„Während Fidesz-Politiker uns über Christentum, Familie, traditionelle Geschlechterrollen und Moral belehren, leben sie in Wirklichkeit ein völlig anderes Leben, so weit wie möglich von eben den Werten entfernt, für die sie eintreten.“

Der Fall rückt die Auswirkungen einer auf sogenannte traditionelle Werte ausgerichteten Politik, die nichts anderes als Unterdrückung von Minderheitenrechten und individueller Freiheit bedeutet, ins Schlaglicht der Öffentlichkeit.

Für die anderen Parteien in der EVP, wird es noch einmal schwieriger zu erklären, warum man* einerseits ein Europa der Werte formuliert, andererseits mit bigotten Nationalisten im Bett liegt. Und Kommissionspräsidentin Ursula von der Leyen dürfte beim Nachtgebet leise Danke geflüstert haben, denn sie steht im Spagat zwischen Mitnehmen und Drohen der kraftmeiernden Populisten plötzlich auf sehr viel festerem Grund. Möge sie erfolgreich sein, damit irgendwann jeder Europäer seine Freiheit ohne die erdrückende Last der Angst zusammenbrechenden Weltbilder aus dem Mittelalter leben kann.

So wird József Szájer als «Ungarns neue Schwulenikone» gefeiert

Auch ein Diplomat aus Estland war bei der Schwulen-Orgie in Brüssel

An der illegalen Schwulen-Orgie in Belgiens Hauptstadt hat auch ein Diplomat aus Estland teilgenommen. Das Aussenamt in Tallinn bestätigte estnischen Medien am Mittwoch, dass der Staatsvertreter bei der Party am Freitag letzter Woche gewesen war und wegen eines Verstosses gegen Corona-Auflagen festgenommen worden war. Sein ungarischer Kollege József Szájer wird derweil als Schwulenikone gefeiert ...

Obgleich der Diplomat als Privatperson an der Versammlung teilgenommen habe, sei es «bedauerlich», dass die Person nicht die geltenden Beschränkungen in Belgien eingehalten habe, sagte Ministeriumssprecherin Aari Lemmik. Nähere Angaben zu dem Vorfall machte sie nicht.

In Belgien hatte Polizei am Freitagabend eine Party in Brüssel wegen Verstosses gegen die Corona-Vorschriften aufgelöst. Nach Angaben der Staatsanwaltschaft hatten die Beamten in einer Wohnung in der Innenstadt rund 20 Menschen angetroffen. Der Staatsanwaltschaft zufolge wiesen sich zwei Angetroffene als Diplomaten aus. Dazu kommt noch der von der Polizei nach Hause eskortierte ungarische Europaabgeordnete József Szájer, der Medienberichten zufolge nackt über die Regenrinne flüchten wollte. Später räumte er seinen Fehltritt ein und verzichtete auf sein EU-Mandat (MANNSCHAFT berichtete).

Derweil ist in Rom ein Wandgemälde aufgetaucht, das József Szájer, als «Ungarns neue Schwulenikone» feiert. Die Künstlerin Laika hat dem Werk den Titel «Fk Orbán! ,I am what I am’» gegeben. (Eine ganz andere Art von Schwulenikone ist dagegen Justin Trudeau – MANNSCHAFT berichtete).

Diese homophoben Politiker stolperten über ihr
Privatleben

«Ich wünsche mir eine Welt, in der sogar Szájer frei sein kann, seine Sexualität so zu leben, wie er glaubt, ohne sich vor den Augen seiner eigenen Partei verstecken zu müssen. Vielen Dank an Jozsef für den schweren Schlag gegen die Intoleranz. Ab heute bist du die neue ungarische Schwulenikone ... Aber respektiere das nächste Mal die Anti-Corona-Regeln!»

Provokation eines ausländischen Geheimdienstes?

Die illegale Sex-Party ist nicht nur ein Problem für Ungarn, sondern auch für Polen, schreibt die links-liberale Tageszeitung Gazeta Wyborcza an diesem Samstag: «Ungarns Regierungschef Viktor Orban hat den Nationalen Sicherheitsrat einberufen, um zu klären, ob der Europaabgeordnete und Teilnehmer einer lauten Schwulenparty, József Szájer, Opfer der Provokation eines ausländischen Geheimdienstes geworden ist. Das zeugt davon, dass die Situation, in der Szajer mit Drogen im Rucksack über die Regenrinne von der Schwulenparty türmen wollte, für Orban ziemlich schwierig ist.

Schwierig ist die Situation auch für Polens nationalkonservative Regierungspartei PiS, die im Streit mit Brüssel ein Bündnis mit Orban bildet. Ministerpräsident Mateusz Morawiecki und PiS-Chef Jaroslaw Kaczynski drohen, den EU-Haushalt mit einem Veto zu blockieren. Die Politiker von PiS und Fidesz dröhnen, dass es um Würde und Souveränität gehe. Und dass das Veto zum Schutz diene vor der Einführung von Gender-Ideologie, Schwulenehe und der Adoption von Kindern durch homosexuelle Paare. Doch diese Erklärung für das «tumbe Volk» bekommt gerade einen Riss. Trotz Orbans erbärmlicher Propaganda-Manöver hängt das Lager der PiS nun in Brüssel gemeinsam mit Fidesz an der Regenrinne – ohne Unterhose.»

Jozsef Szájer è “la nuova icona gay ungherese”: l’intelligente ironia di Laika nella sua ultima opera

04.12 - 20:11 gaynews.it

Si continua a parlare, e a ragione, del caso dell'europarlamentare Jozsef Szájer, che, dopo la partecipazione a un'orgia con 24 maschi a Bruxelles nella notte tra il 27 e il 28 novembre e la successiva identificazione dalla polizia per violazione delle norme anti-Covid, è stato espulso da Viktor Orbán da Fidesz (il partito sovranista al potere in Ungheria, di cui lo stesso deputato 59enne è tra i fondatori).

E c'è chi lo fa attraverso il linguaggio dell'arte e dell'ironia. Nella giornata di oggi a Roma, all'angolo tra via Ostilia e via di San Giovanni in Laterano (la cosiddetta gay street della capitale), è infatti apparsa l'ultima opera della street artist Laika, che s'intitola Jozsef Szájer: The New Hungarian Gay Icon.

Meleg ikon lett Szájer József Olaszországban

6 nap ezelőtt 21

Egy olasz utcaművészt is megihletett Szájer József volt EP-képviselő körül kitört botrány. Laika egy Fidesz-logóra festette meg Szájer Józsefet nem mindennapi öltözetben egy római graffiti kedvéért, amelyről a gay.it portál címlap vezető cikkben adott hírt.

A volt EP-képviselő szinte meztelen a képen, bal karján magyar címer látható tetoválásként, amelybe az LMBTQI közösségre utaló szivárvány is bele van festve. Szájer József mögött több meztelen férfi is látható.

Magyarországon az Orbán-kormány szó szerint hadat üzent az LMBT közösségnek, minden joguktól meg akarják őket fosztani – mondta a művész az Indexnek. Bevallása szerint egy olyan világról álmodik, ahol például Szájer József is szabadon élheti meg szexualitását, anélkül, hogy a saját pártja előtt ezt rejtegetnie kellene.

Olyan világról álmodom, ahol identitástól és szexuális irányultságtól függetlenül mindenkinek azonos jogai vannak, egy előítélet nélküli társadalomról.

A művész szerint minden embert megilletnek ugyanazok a jogok, végül hozzátette:

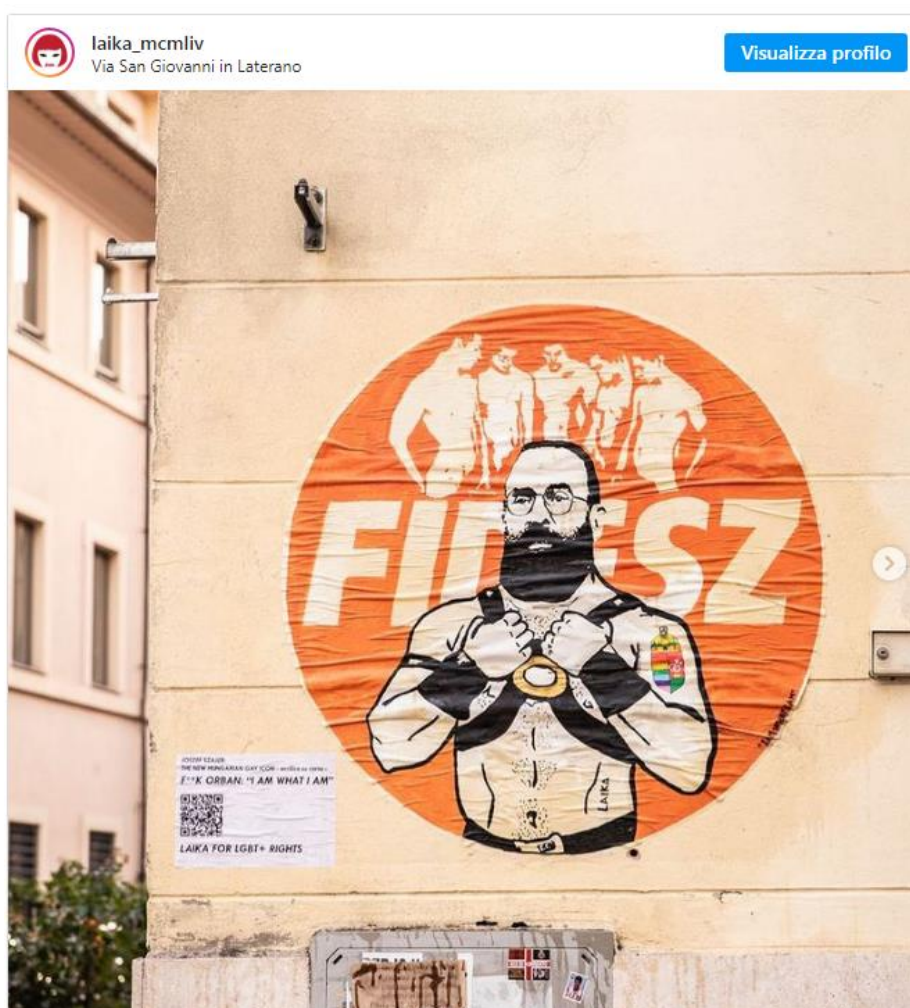

Köszönettel tartozom neked, Szájer József, hogy nyilvánosan szabadon megélted nemi identitásodat, és kemény csapást mértél az intoleranciára. Mától te vagy az új meleg ikon.

Seksiorgioista kiinnijääneestä mepistä tehtiin graffiti Roomaan: "Tästä päivästä lähtien olet uusi homoikoni"

Orgioista kiinnijääneestä ja nyttemmin entisestä unkarilaisesta europarlamentaarikosta Jozsef Szajerista näyttää tulleen inspiraation lähde katutaiteelle.

Italialainen katutaiteilija Laika teki Roomaan graffitin Szajerista ilman vaatteita. Hänen taustallaan on hänen puolueensa Fideszin logo, jota reunustaa tukku alastomia miehiä.

Szajerilla on käsivarressaan sateenkaarivärein somistettu tatuointi.

Szajer osallistui maanantaina seksibileisiin, jotka Belgian viranomaiset keskeyttivät, sillä ne rikkoivat koronarajoituksia.

Taiteilija kertoo olevansa huolissaan Unkarin tilanteesta.

– Unkarissa (Pääministeri Victor) Orbanin hallitus on kirjaimellisesti julistamassa sotaa LGBTQ-yhteisöä kohtaan. He haluavat riistää heiltä kaikki oikeudet, Laika kertoo unkarilaiselle Index-sivustolle.

Laika kertoo myös haaveilevansa maailmasta, jossa esimerkiksi Szajer voisi ilmaista seksuaalisuuttaan avoimesti ja piilottamatta sitä puolueeltaan. Unkarilaismeppi päätti erota tehtävästään kohun seurauksena.

– Tästä päivästä lähtien olet uusi homoikoni.

Regenrohr wird Gedenkstätte für Karriere von EU-Politiker

Der ungarische EU-Abgeordnete József Szájer feierte vor zwei Wochen an einer illegalen Sex-Party. Seither wird der konservative Politiker weltweit verspottet.

Vor rund zwei Wochen kam es in Brüssel zu einer Sex-Party unter Homosexuellen. Mit dabei: Der konservative EU-Abgeordnete József Szájer. Die Polizei löste die illegale, alles andere als Corona-konforme Sause auf und verwarnte alle Beteiligten.

Der Fidesz-Politiker trat zurück und zeigte sich reuig. Szájer hatte versucht, mithilfe eines Regenrohrs vor der Polizei zu flüchten. Im Rucksack wurden Drogen gefunden. Viele sind empört, weil Ungarn und die Partei Szájers sexuelle Minderheiten unterdrücken.

«Ikone der Schwulen»

Wie die «KronenZeitung» berichtet, haben regierungskritische Ungaren, die im Ausland leben, umgehend auf den Sex-Skandal reagiert. Sie montierten in Brüssel ein Schild am «Tatort-Rohr».

Darauf steht: «Hier endete die politische Karriere des Fidesz- und EU-Abgeordneten József Szájer. Er hatte versucht, über dieses Rohr vor den Behörden zu fliehen. Er wollte in der Nacht zum 27. November den Schauplatz einer illegalen Orgie während der Covid-19-Pandemie verlassen.»

Auch in Rom wird der Ungar auf die Schippe genommen. Eine italienische Street-Art-Künstlerin hängt ein Bild an einer Hauswand auf, das Szájer oben ohne vor dem Logo seiner Partei zeigt. Über ihm sind nackte Männer zu sehen. Gemäss der «Krone» wird er mancherorts bereits als «Ikone der Schwulen» gefeiert.

Osramočeni mađarski desničar koji je uhvaćen u gay orgijama dobio mural u Rimu: 'Hvala ti Jozef!'

Bivši europarlamentarac došao je u središte pažnje kada ga je policija u Bruxellu zatekla u homoseksualnoj grupnoj zabavi

U petak se u Rimu pojavio mural koji kao "novu mađarsku gay ikonu" slavi mađarskog desničarskog političara i bivšeg europarlamentarca Joszeфа Szajera kojega je u Bruxellesu policija zatekla u homoseksualnoj grupnoj zabavi.

Szajer je prošlog tjedna dao ostavku na mjesto zastupnika u Europskom parlamentu nakon što ga je belgijska policija privela zbog kršenja epidemioloških mjera jer ga je zatekla na "seksualnoj zabavi" s 25 muškaraca, kako ju je u medijima opisao muškarac koji je bio 'domaćin' orgija.

Szajer je priznao da je bio na privatnoj zabavi u Bruxellesu, no ni on ni policija nisu potvrdili karakter događaja. Policija je kod njega našla i droge zabranjene zakonom.

Taj 59-godišnji mađarski odvjetnik blizak je premijeru Viktoru Orbanu i imao je aktivnu ulogu u uključivanju tradicionalnih definicija obitelji i spola u mađarski ustav.

Talijanski ulični umjetnik pod pseudonimom Laika prikazao ga je golog utegnutog samo u remenje, s tetovažom mađarskog nacionalnog simbola u duginim bojama LGBT pokreta na lijevoj ruci.

Iza Szajera je na slici pet golih muškaraca, vidljivih od bokova na gore, i znak Orbanove stranke Fidesz.

LGBT aktivisti u Mađarskoj već dugo Fidesz optužuju za napade na njihova prava. Mural se pojavio u blizini Koloseja, na uglu ulice koju Rimljani nazivaju "gay street" jer se u njoj nalazi nekoliko gay barova.

"Sanjam svijet gdje će Szajer biti slobodan živjeti svoju seksualnost kako želi, bez skrivanja od njegove vlastite stranke", poručio je Laika u izjavi.

"Hvala Jozsefu što je zadao snažan udarac netoleranciji. Od danas si nova mađarska gay ikona. No slijedećeg puta molim te poštuj anti-covid propise!", podrugljivo je dodao umjetnik.

Kevés magyar vonatkozású hír robbant akkorát az utóbbi időben, mint Szájer József szexbotránya, az ügy a fél világsajtót bejárta.

A botrányról beszámolt a BBC, a Guardian, a New York Times és a Washington Post is. Számtalan meme, szóvicc, paródiavideó, humoros bejegyzés született a témában.

Nem gondoltuk volna, hogy tud még valaki újat mutatni a témában, amíg rá nem találtunk egy Szájerről készült gigantikus falmatrica fotójára Instagramon.

Az óriási, narancsot formázó posztert a poszt szerint Rómában festették fel az egyik ház oldalára. Szájer a fotón félmeztelenül, meztelen férfiakkal a háttérben, szado-mazo szerkőben feszít. A fotó alá azt írták:

“BD MEG, ORBÁN! VAGYOK, AKI VAGYOK!”

valamint azt:

“SZÁJER JÓZSEF, AZ ÚJ MAGYAR HOMOSZEXUÁLIS IKON”

A készítő, egy LMBTQ-jogi aktivista, Szájer vállára a magyar címet is felfestette, bizonyára, hogy az olaszok is értsék, kiről van szó.

MEP and top Viktor Orbán ally arrested at sex party hailed as 'new Hungarian gay icon' in stunning street mural

EMMA POWYS MAURICE | DECEMBER 6, 2020

The gay sex party scandal that cost József Szájer his career has had an unexpected upside: he's been reborn as a Hungarian queer icon.

Last week the Hungarian MEP and founding father of Viktor Orbán's anti-LGBT+ Fidesz party was found among several naked men at an illicit gay orgy in Brussels, which was raided by police for breaching coronavirus restrictions.

Szájer resigned from the European Parliament in disgrace and was subsequently disowned by Orbán. But all is not lost – he's finally achieved the recognition he deserves as a burly leather daddy.

Szájer's story inspired the Italian street artist Laika, who's depicted the bare-chested politician in a striking mural entitled: "The New Hungarian Gay Icon – Fk Orbán, I Am What I Am".

The tongue-in-cheek tribute shows the former MEP in a leather harness with the Hungarian coat of arms tattooed in rainbow colours on his left arm, and five naked men, Szájer's "companions in adventures," standing faithfully behind him.

Explaining their work, which is proudly displayed on the streets of Rome, Laika said they "dream of a world" where József Szájer can experience his sexuality freely without having to hide it from his own party.

"In Hungary, the Orbán government literally declared war on the LGBT + community, depriving it of all rights in the name of so-called traditional values and Christian roots," they said.

"I want a world where everyone has the same rights, regardless of identity and sexual orientation, a society without prejudice. Straight, gay, lesbian, trans, bisexual, queer, etc... All human beings, all with the same rights.

"I want a world where even Szájer can be free to live his sexuality the way he believes, without hiding from the eyes of his own party."

Highlighting Szájer's hypocrisy, the artist concluded: "Thanks József for dealing a severe blow to intolerance. From today you are the new Hungarian gay icon. But next time respect the anti-COVID rules!"

This unexpected career trajectory is unlikely to be welcomed by Szájer, an ostentatiously homophobic politician who rewrote Hungary's constitution to exclude same-sex marriage and recently proposed a law that would block same-sex couples from adopting.

«Covid partouze» à Bruxelles: l'ex-député hongrois Jozsef Szajer représenté en icône gay à Rome

Une fresque murale représentant l'ex-député hongrois Jozsef Szajer, empêtré dans le scandale sexuel sobrement nommé « covid partouze » par les médias, est apparue dans le quartier gay de Rome. Le membre du parti d'extrême droite de Viktor Orban y est érigé en icône gay, torse nu et vêtu d'un harnais.

L'ex-député européen Jozsef Szajer, qui a présenté sa démission en début de semaine suite à son interpellation le 27 novembre dernier au cours d'une orgie regroupant illégalement une vingtaine de personnes majoritairement des hommes dans un appartement du centre de Bruxelles, a été représenté en icône gay dans un quartier de Rome.

L'avocat de 59 ans, membre du parti du Premier ministre hongrois Viktor Orban, est représenté torse nu, muni d'un harnais avec un tatouage représentant le symbole national hongrois aux couleurs du drapeau LGBT. L'artiste de rue italienne Laika l'a érigé en icône gay. Jozsef Szajer a notamment participé dans son pays à réduire les droits de la communauté LGBT.

« Je rêve d'un monde où même Szajer peut être libre de vivre sa sexualité comme il le pense, sans se cacher de son propre parti. Merci Jozsef d'avoir porté un sérieux coup à l'intolérance. Vous êtes aujourd'hui la nouvelle icône gay hongroise. La prochaine fois, veuillez respecter les règles anti-Covid ! », déclare l'artiste Laïka, selon nos confrères de Métro.

Nach illegaler Sexparty in Brüssel: Wird der Dachrinnen-Flüchter jetzt zur Schwulenikone?

Eine Street-Art-Künstlerin setzt dem EU-Abgeordneten Jozsef Szajer, der kürzlich auf einer illegalen Sexparty in Brüssel aufgefliegen ist, ein Denkmal. Und auch die weltbekannt gewordene Dachrinne ist mittlerweile mit einer Plakette verziert.

Von seinem langjährigen Freund Viktor Orban wurde Jozsef Stajer umgehend verstossen: Seine Handlungen seien «inakzeptabel» und «mit den Werten unserer politischen Familie» nicht vereinbar, erklärte der ungarische

Ministerpräsident. Dass Szajer aus der Fidesz-Regierungspartei ausgetreten ist, die er zusammen mit Orban vor über 30 Jahren gegründet hat, sei «die einzige richtige Entscheidung» gewesen, so Orban.

Welche «Handlungen» er aber genau als «inakzeptabel» klassifizierte, liess Orban offen. War es die Tatsache, dass Szajer an einer Sexparty in Brüssel teilnahm, obwohl die Regeln des Corona-Lockdown solche momentan verbieten? Waren es die Extasy-Pillen, die in seinem Rucksack gefunden wurden? Nahm Orban Anstoss daran, dass Szajer über eine Dachrinne zu flüchten versuchte, als die Polizei eintraf?

Oder lag das Problem für Orban doch eher darin, dass an der Sexparty ausschliesslich Männer teilnahmen, es sich also um eine Schwulen-Orgie handelte? Immerhin kämpfen Orban und Fidesz seit Jahren für ein traditionelle Geschlechterverständnis und schrecken nicht davor zurück, die Rechte von Schwulen, Lesben und transgender-Menschen in Ungarn einzuschränken.

Darauf wies nun auch eine italienische Street-Art Künstlerin hin, die Jozsef Szajer mit einem Bild in Rom ein Denkmal gesetzt hat. «Jozsef Szajer: die neue ungarische Schwulenikone» heisst das Werk und zeigt den bärtigen EU-Parlamentarier mit nacktem Oberkörper und Ledergurt. Sein Arm ziert eine Tätowierung mit einem Wappen in den Farben der Regenbogenfamilie. Im Hintergrund das Logo von Orbans Fidesz-Partei und eine Gruppe nackter Männer. «Fk Orban! I am what I am» - «Scheiss auf Orban, ich bin, was ich bin», lautet die Bildunterschrift.

In ihrer Erklärung schreibt Laika zu ihrem Bild: «Ich wünsche mir eine Welt, in der sogar Szajer frei sein kann, seine Sexualität so zu leben, wie er glaubt, ohne sich vor den Augen seiner eigenen Partei verstecken zu müssen. Vielen Dank an Jozsef für den schweren Schlag gegen die Intoleranz. Ab heute bist du die neue ungarische Schwulenikone».

Zum Schluss fügt die Künstlerin noch hinzu: «Aber respektiere das nächste Mal die Anti-Corona-Regeln!»

Aber nicht nur in Rom, sondern auch in Brüssel selbst hat die Affäre um Jozsef Szajer nun ein Andenken bekommen. Die Dachrinne, die mittlerweile weltbekannt geworden ist, wurde von vier in Brüssel lebenden Ungaren mit einer Erinnerungsplakette versehen. Darauf zu lesen steht neben dem Foto von Jozsef Szayer: «Hier endete die politische Karriere von Jozsef Szajer, EU-Abgeordneter von Fidesz und Mitglied der Europäischen Volkspartei, als er über die Dachrinne vor der Polizei nach einer illegalen, mit Extasy versetzten Orgie während der Covid-19 Pandemie am 27 November 2020 zu flüchten versuchte».

Neben dem Manneken Pis, der Grand Place und dem Atomium hat Brüssel nun also eine weitere Touristenattraktion.

Szájer ikon lett

2020-12-04 23:33

Szájer József a Fidesz legendás politikusa ikon lett. Már művészeket is megihletett a magyar politikus, aki az LGBTQ közösségek példaképe lett egy pillanat alatt. Olaszországban már utcaművészek is falra festették és jó érzés, hogy a pozitív részét nézik a Szájer-ügynek és nem a botrányt hajhásszák .

Egy olasz utcaművészt is megihletett Szájer József volt EP-képviselő körül kitört botrány. Laika egy Fidesz-logóra festette meg Szájer Józsefet nem mindennapi öltözetben egy római graffiti kedvéért, amelyről a gay.it portál címlap vezető cikkben adott hírt.

Nem akarják, hogy bárkinek is úgy kelljen élnie, mint Szájer Józsefnek.

A volt EP-képviselő szinte meztelen a képen, bal karján magyar címer látható tetoválásként, amelybe az LGBTQI közösségre utaló szivárvány is bele van festve. Szájer József mögött több meztelen férfi is látható.

Magyarországon az Orbán-kormány szó szerint hadat üzent az LGBTQ közösségnek, minden joguktól meg akarják őket fosztani – mondta a művész .

Bevallása szerint egy olyan világról álmodik, ahol például Szájer József is szabadon élheti meg szexualitását, anélkül, hogy a saját pártja előtt ezt rejtetnie kellene.

Olyan világról álmodom, ahol identitástól és szexuális irányultságtól függetlenül mindenkinek azonos jogai vannak, egy előítélet nélküli társadalomról.

A művész szerint minden embert megilletnek ugyanazok a jogok, végül hozzátette: Köszönettel tartozom neked, Szájer József, hogy nyilvánosan szabadon megélted nemi identitásodat, és kemény csapást mértél az intoleranciára. Mától te vagy az új meleg ikon.

Szajer je prošlog tjedna dao ostavku na mjesto zastupnika u Europskom parlamentu nakon što ga je belgijska policija privela zbog kršenja epidemioloških mjera jer ga je zatekla na "seksualnoj zabavi" s 25 muškaraca, kako ju je u medijima opisao muškarac koji je bio 'domaćin' orgija.

Szajer je priznao da je bio na privatnoj zabavi u Bruxellesu, no ni on ni policija nisu potvrdili karakter događaja. Policija je kod njega našla i droge zabranjene zakonom.

Taj 59-godišnji mađarski odvjetnik blizak je premijeru Viktoru Orbánu i imao je aktivnu ulogu u uključivanju tradicionalnih definicija obitelji i spola u mađarski ustav.

Talijanski ulični umjetnik pod pseudonimom Laika prikazao ga je golog utegnutog samo u remenje, s tetovažom mađarskog nacionalnog simbola u duginim bojama LGBT pokreta na lijevoj ruci.

Iza Szajera je na slici pet golih muškaraca, vidljivih od bokova na gore, i znak Orbánove stranke Fidesz.

LGBT aktivisti u Mađarskoj već dugo Fidesz optužuju za napade na njihova prava.

Mural se pojavio u blizini Koloseja, na uglu ulice koju Rimljani nazivaju "gay street" jer se u njoj nalazi nekoliko gay barova.

"Sanjam svijet gdje će Szajer biti slobodan živjeti svoju seksualnost kako želi, bez skrivanja od njegove vlastite stranke", poručio je Laika u izjavi.

"Hvala Jozsefu što je zadao snažan udarac netoleranciji. Od danas si nova mađarska gay ikona. No sljedećeg puta molim te poštuj anti-covid propise!", podrugljivo je dodao umjetnik.

Deși nu vrea, devine din ce în ce mai cunoscut. Europarlamentarul maghiar, încă o ipostază jenantă

Autor: Nicolae Comănescu 8 decembrie 2020, 09:33

A devenit peste noapte cel mai cunoscut europarlamentar de la Bruxelles, după ce a participat la o orgie la care au luat parte mai mulți reprezentanți ai comunității LGBT. Este vorba despre József Szájer, politician maghiar, care și-a dat demisia din partidul Fidez, care este condus de Viktor Orbán, după izbucnirea uriașului scandal din capitala Belgiei.

Pictat pe un perete exterior

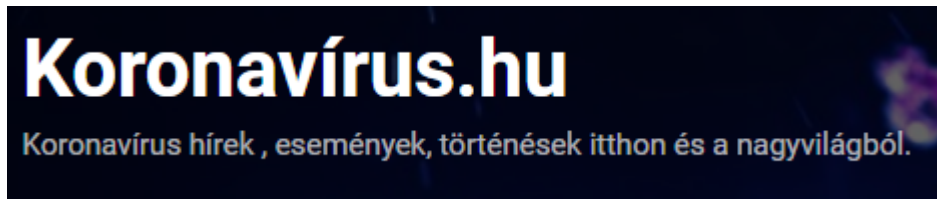

La evenimentul respectiv au fost prezenți peste 30 de bărbați, unii dintre ei fiind diplomați. Deocamdată nu se știe ce soartă va avea căsnicia politicianului maghiar și dacă soția sa va înainta divorț. Între timp, popularitatea pe care József Szájer nu și-ar fi dorit-o vreodată capătă proporții. În Italia, el a devenit un simbol al al comunității LGBT. Și asta pentru că Laika, un artist din „Cizmă”, l-a immortalizat pe politician într-o postură inedită, conform siteului retetesivedete.ro.

Este vorba despre un graffiti, iar imaginea a fost preluată și de un site ce este dedicat persoanelor ce fac parte din comunitatea LGBT. În desenul respectiv maghiarul apare având tatuat pe brațul stâng un tatuaj cu un simbol al comunității, curcubeul. În spatele personajului central al graffiti-ului au fost portretizați mai mulți bărbați.

Viktor Orbán, criticat de artistul italian

Scandalul a fost cu atât mai mare cu cât partidul lui Viktor Orbán este intransigent atunci când vine vorba despre comunitatea LGBT. În același modul doctrinar se afla și europarlamentarul József Szájer, cel care a devenit subiectul scandalului.

„În Ungaria, guvernul Orban declară literalmente război comunității LGBT, vor să-i lipsească de toate drepturile lor. Visez la o lume în care toată lumea, indiferent de identitate și orientare, are aceleași drepturi într-o societate fără prejudecăți. Vă sunt recunoscător, József Szájer, pentru că v-ați trăit public identitatea de gen și ați provocat intoleranța. De astăzi, sunteți noul simbol LGBT”, a declarat Laika, artistul italian care a realizat desenul inedit.

Szájer József múlt vasárnap mondott le európai parlamenti képviselői posztjáról. Közleményében csak annyit írt, hogy a napi politikai küzdelemben való részvétel egyre nagyobb lelki megterhelést jelent számára. A Fidesz még aznap köszönetet mondott leköszönő politikusának:

döntő szerepe volt abban, hogy a magyar polgári konzervativizmus és kereszténydemokrácia elfoglalhassa az őt megillető helyét...

Szájer a szexpartin

December elsején robbant a nemzetközi sajtóban, hogy az Európai Parlament egyik képviselője is részt vett azon a brüsszeli szexpartin, amit a rendőrség oszlatott fel. A HLN írt először arról, hogy az orgia egyik résztvevője egy magyar politikus volt.

A szétzavart melegorgia tényénél jobban felkavarta a külföldi sajtót, hogy az illusztris társaság megsértette a nagyszámú résztvevővel a belga járványügyi szabályokat. Miután többször is leírták és emlegették ereszcساتornás mutatóványát, Szájer részben elismerte a történeteket és azt mondta: vállalja a felelősséget a karantén szabályok megszegéséért, de kábítószer nem volt nála.

A belga ügyészség szerint iratok nem voltak nála, drogot viszont találtak a hátizsákjában. Eközben a Ryanair „gyorsan menekülne Brüsszelből?” kampánnyal reklámozta járatait.

A honatya félrelép

Ezután került képbe Brüsszel azóta világhírűvé vált melegorgiájának szervezője, a lengyel David Manzheley, aki elmondta, hogy Szájert senki sem hívta a buliba, egyszer csak betoppant, és ott volt. Manzheley a belga rendőrségre is kiakadt: „Mégis hogyan tudtuk volna odaadni az igazolványainkat olyan gyorsan, amikor alsónadrág sem volt rajtunk?”

A szintén fideszes EP-képviselő, Hidvéghi Balázs megpróbálta védeni Szájert:

az vesse rá az első követ, aki a bűntelen.

Szijjártó Péter titkosszolgálati beavatkozásról beszélt, viszont az esethez kapcsolódó mém-áradatot már nem lehetett leállítani. A Szájer-man – Müller Cecília: „csak az menjen orgiázni, aki le is tud mászni az ereszcsontrán” – mémek elöntötték a magyar internetet.

A magyarázat – miszerint Szájerre házibulizás közben törte rá az ajtót a belga rendőrség, és hogy a politikus ezt követően elnézést kért a családjától és szavazóitól, amiért barátaival lazított – erős léket kapott. 24 órával később már az egész ország tudott Szájer ügy részleteiről.

Azóta az is kiderült, hogy nem kellett betörni az ajtót, mert végig nyitva volt.

Miután egyre kínosabbá vált a Szájer-sztori, a politikus kilépett a Fideszből, amit személyesen Orbán Viktor közölt a Magyar Nemzetnek:

amit Szájer József képviselőtársunk tett, az a mi politikai közösségünk értékrendjébe nem fér bele.

A buliguru

Miközben Szájer a brüsszeli orgiák reklámarca lett, a csoportépítő elhíresült házigazdája rákontrázott korábbi kijelentéseire, és tovább promotálta „szolgáltatásait” a sajtóban. Ekkor viszont már úgy emlékezett, hogy 9 fideszes politikus is járt nála korábban. David Manzheley arról is beszélt, hogy szerinte a konkurencia nyomhatta fel őt, hogy orgiára vágyó befolyásos embereket csábítsanak el a lakásából. A rendőrség pedig durván bánt velük, szerinte ezzel az LGBT-közösséget érte támadás. De semmiképp sem járultak hozzá a járvány terjedéséhez, mert „két nővér is jelen volt a bulin, és ők sem gondolták, hogy ez veszélyes lenne”. Azonban az önkéntes orgia-szakápolók megállapításait figyelmen kívül hagyta a belga rendőrség.

A lavina elindult...

Eközben Szájer soproni díszpolgári címétől is búcsúzott. A kupleráj kupidója pedig teljesen összezavarta a sajtót ellentmondó nyilatkozataival. Csak annyi volt biztos, hogy 25 meztelen férfi vett részt a partin, Szájer az ereszcsontrán menekült, és drog volt a hátizsákjában. Eközben Szájer Schmidt Mária alapítványának kuratóriumából is távozott.

Szájer József szombathelyi névrokona is megkapta magáét az internetezőktől. Az ártatlan Szájer József ezért egy bejegyzésben figyelmeztette a facebookozókat, hogy ne az ő oldalát kommenteljék szét a szexpartiért járó dicséretekkel, hiszen neki semmi köze botrányba keveredett névrokonához.

Majd a Hír TV háttérműsorában Bayer Zsolt beszélt arról, hogy régóta tudtak a politikus Szájer József vonzalmairól. A Budapest Pride pedig a Fideszt kezdte el érzékenyíteni, hogy a párt egyetlen szimpatizánsának se kelljen úgy titkolóznia, mint ahogy Szájernek kellett.

Szájer a meleg ikon

Egy olasz művész, Laika, egy alkotással köszönte meg Szájer Józsefnek az ereszcsontrán:

hogy nyilvánosan szabadon megéltes nemi identitásodat, és kemény csapást mértél az intoleranciára. Mától te vagy az új meleg ikon.

Egy művész meg is köszönte neki, hogy szabadon megélte a nemi identitását.

Index – Domestic – Chronicle of the Difficult Week by József Szájer

December 6, 2020 Hungary 7 Views

József Szájer resigned from the European Parliament last Sunday. In his statement he only wrote that participating in the daily political struggle is an increasing mental burden on him. Fidesz thanked his resigned politician on the same day:

played a crucial role in helping Hungarian civic conservatism and Christian democracy take their rightful place ...

Mouth at the sex party

News came on December 1st that a member of the European Parliament had also attended a sex party in Brussels that had been broken up by the police. HLN first wrote that one of the participants in the orgy was a Hungarian politician.

The event was banned by epidemiological restrictions. You wrote about a Hungarian politician who has since resigned; József Szájer later admitted his involvement.

It touched the foreign press more than the fact that the famous company had broken the Belgian epidemiological rules with a large number of participants. After describing and mentioning his gutter stunt several times, József Szájer said he took responsibility for violating the quarantine rules but that he did not have any drugs.

According to the Belgian public prosecutor's office, he had no documents, but drugs were found in his backpack. In the meantime, would Ryanair "flee Brussels quickly"? advertised its flights with a campaign.

Would you run away from Brussels quickly?

Your stepmother steps aside

Then came the organizer of David Manzheley from Poland, the organizer of the famous gay organ in Brussels, who said that nobody had invited Szájer to the party, he just came over and was there. Manzheley also called out to the Belgian police: "But how could we have handed over our ID cards so quickly if we hadn't even put on our underpants?"

The police slammed the door without knocking.

Balázs Hidvéghi, a MEP from Fidesz, tried to protect Szájer:

thou shalt throw at him the first stone that is without sin.

Péter Szijjártó spoke about the intervention of the secret service, but the flood of memes associated with the case could no longer be stopped.

Of course, the story of the European member who fled a confused orgy did not leave Hungarian internet users indifferent.

The statement that the Belgian police broke the door to Szájer during a house party and that the politician subsequently apologized to his family and voters for relaxing with friends was heavily leaked. 24 hours later, the whole country knew the details of the Szájer case.

Since then it has also been found that the door did not need to be broken because it was fully open.

The politician left Fidesz, whereupon Prime Minister Viktor Orbán also addressed the Hungarian nation:

What our colleague József Szájer did not fit into the values of our political community.

In the apartment on the first floor of the house, the police slammed the door to 25 naked men.

To Buliguru

While Szájer became the advertising face of the orgies in Brussels, the notorious host of the group builders contradicted his earlier statements and continued to promote his “services” in the press. After he hadn’t even remembered the name József Szájer in his earlier statements, he suddenly “remembered”: 9 Fidesz politicians had previously visited him. David Manzheley also spoke about how he believed the competition made him lure influential people who wanted an orgy out of his apartment. And the police treated them harshly, saying the LGBT community had been attacked.

Organizer David Manzheley is increasingly sharing rough details, such as knowledge of 9 Fidesz politicians who have already been to such a party.

The avalanche started ...

In the meantime, József Szájer also said goodbye to the title of honorary citizen of Sopron. And Coupler Cupcup was utterly confused by his contradicting statements to the press. The only thing that was certain was that 25 naked men attended the party, Szájer fled the gutter and there were drugs in his backpack. In the meantime, József Szájer has also left the Board of Trustees of the Mária Schmidt Foundation.

Especially if the person is not a member of the European Parliament involved in the sex scandal.

Then Zsolt Bayer spoke in the background program on Hír TV that they had known about the attractions of the politician József Szájer for a long time. And Budapest Pride began to raise Fidesz's awareness so that no sympathizer of the party had to remain as secret as Szájer.

They don't want someone like József Szájer to have to live.

Mouth warm symbol

An Italian artist, Laika, thanked József Szájer for the gutter with a work:

that you lived your gender identity freely in public and dealt a severe blow to intolerance. From today you are the new gay icon.

One artist even thanked him for freely living his gender identity.

A MURAL HAS APPEARED IN ROME IN WHICH ORBAN'S EMBARRASSED EMPLOYEE IS CELEBRATED AS A "GAY ICON".

A mural appeared in Rome on Friday as the "new Hungarian gay icon" in celebration of Hungarian right-wing politician and former MEP Jozef Zajer, whom the police found at a gay group party in Brussels.

Zajer resigned from the European Parliament last week after Belgian police arrested him for violating epidemiological measures because they found him at a "sexual party" with 25 men, as described in the media by a man who the Was "host" of the orgy. .

Zajer admitted that he was at a private party in Brussels, but neither he nor the police confirmed the nature of the event. Police also found illegal drugs near him.

The 59-year-old Hungarian lawyer is close to Prime Minister Viktor Orban and has played an active role in incorporating traditional definitions of family and gender into the Hungarian constitution.

An Italian street performer under the pseudonym Laika showed him naked, only tied in his belt, with a tattoo of the Hungarian national symbol in the rainbow colors of the LGBT movement on his left arm.

Behind Zajer is a picture of five naked men visible from the waist up, and the sign of Orban's Fidesz party.

LGBT activists in Hungary have long accused Fidesz of attacking their rights.

The mural appeared near the Colosseum on the corner of a street the Romans call "Gay Street" because it is home to several gay bars.

"I dream of a world in which Zajer will be free to live his sexuality as he wishes without hiding from his own party," Laika said in a statement.

"Thank you, Jožef, for dealing a strong blow to intolerance. As of today you are a new Hungarian gay icon. But please respect the anti-covid regulations next time!" Added the artist.

Many arrests occur at Cairo's airport, where Egyptians studying or traveling abroad suddenly learn that they are wanted by the security services. In the past, researchers have been arrested on arrival from the United States, Germany and Britain. The governments of those countries have offered muted protest, if any at all.

'Tortured' Egyptian student's plight drawn by Italian street artist

An Egyptian studying in Italy was detained when he flew to Cairo last week and his family and human rights groups say he has been tortured.

Now a mural has appeared near the Egyptian embassy in Rome showing student Patrick Zaky being comforted by Giulio Regeni, an Italian murdered in Egypt in 2016.

Regeni is seen hugging him, saying "this time everything will be fine".

Egypt's interior ministry has said he is being held on a prosecution warrant.

Mr Zaky, 27, is being held on suspicion of spreading fake news, misusing social media and inciting protest without permission, according to rights group the Egyptian Initiative for Personal Rights (EIPR).

The interior ministry says he is being held on remand for 15 days pending further inquiry. A hearing has been set for 22 February.

Rome (dpa) - An Italian street artist has rallied to the defence of Patrick George Zaki, an Egyptian researcher and rights activist who has reportedly been tortured while under detention in Cairo.

The artist, called Laika, put up a drawing overnight on a wall near the Egyptian embassy in Rome, calling for Zaki's release and drawing parallels with the murder of Italian graduate student Giulio Regeni.

In the mural, Regeni hugs Zaki and tells him, "This time everything will go well." The image is completed by the word "freedom" in Arabic and the #freepatrick hashtag.

The artwork "has a double meaning," Laika said in a Tuesday statement.

It is meant to "reassure Patrick" and put pressure on the Egyptian government and the international community; "We cannot allow what happened to Regeni and too many others to happen again," she added.

Zaki, a graduate student at the University of Bologna in northern Italy, was arrested on Friday as he returned to Egypt and placed in custody for 15 days.

According to his lawyers, he was held incommunicado for 24 hours during which he was beaten and electrocuted, and faces charges including spreading fake news and incitement to overthrow the state.

Regeni was kidnapped, tortured and killed in Cairo in 2016, allegedly by Egyptian security agencies, which deny responsibility. The suspicion is that they mistook him for a foreign spy.

Egypt has seen a crackdown on freedom of expression under President Abdel-Fattah al-Sissi, with dozens of journalists and rights activists imprisoned or forced into exile.

Vandalized Zaki poster will not 'silence us'

ROME – The vandalizing of a mural depicting murdered Cambridge University student Giulio Regeni embracing Patrick George Zaki, another student arrested arbitrarily by security services and tortured in Egypt, will not ‘silence us,’ the artist behind the image said on Wednesday.

Instead, the artwork, which appeared on Feb. 10 on a wall surrounding Villa Ada, near the Egyptian embassy in the Eternal City, has been reimagined.

According to the artist, the ‘misfortune’ has given the poster a new life.

“After it was [torn], many asked me to reattach the work,” artist Laika said.

“But the beauty of street art is precisely this: the works become living organisms in continuous evolution and, as such, they can change.”

In the ‘second act’ of the embrace between Giulio Regeni and Patrick Zaki, the artist wanted to represent the exact moment a mystery person tore the poster.

The new work depicts a shadow whose hand tears Regeni and Zaki’s embrace. But Laika has filled the blank space with a group of people, led by the artist herself, all holding yellow placards with the words – ‘Free Patrick.’

“I wanted to make it clear that nobody can silence us, that a drawing can be torn but there will always be someone behind it ready to shout loudly,” Laika said in a statement.

“All in all, the anonymous person who tore the poster did us all a favour: it shows that together we can change things,” she said.

In the poster, ‘freedom’ is written in Arabic in front of the pair and Regeni reassures Zaki with the words – “This time everything will be ok.”

Zaki, a researcher on gender and human rights at Egyptian Initiative for Personal Rights (EIPR), who flew to Egypt from Italy to visit family, was arrested at Cairo’s international airport on Feb. 7 and disappeared for 24 hours.

The Egyptian activist was taken to his hometown of Mansoura where he was interrogated.

Zaki's lawyers said the 27-year-old, who had been in Bologna since August 2019 for postgraduate studies, was beaten and subjected to electric shocks.

Among the accusations against the student are: publishing false news; "harming national security"; and intending to overthrow the state.

Immediate parallels were drawn between his case and that of the unsolved murder of 28-year-old PhD student Giulio Regeni.

Regeni's body, which was found in a ditch on the outskirts of Cairo several days after he was murdered in early 2016, bore signs of torture and electric shock.

An Italian citizen who had been researching Egyptian trade unions, Regeni is known to have been killed by Egypt's security services.

Artist Laika aimed to highlight Zaki's detention and put pressure on the Egyptian government in the hope of a positive outcome.

"What happened to Giulio Regeni and many others cannot be allowed to happen again," Laika said. "This time everything MUST be ok."

"Esta vez todo va a estar bien". Dice Giulio Regeni , mientras que la rodea un abrazo Patrick Zaky , en la calle de la obra de arte de Laika , pop-up en la noche entre el 10 y el 11 de febrero en Roma, en la via Salaria, a la derecha en frente de la sede de la Embajada de Egipto.

"En el abrazo de Julius y Patrick hay un doble mensaje – explicar en el teléfono, el misterioso artista de la calle, activo en la capital por alrededor de un año, y que el público se muestra siempre cubierto por una máscara y una capucha - una imagen de la licitación, reconfortante, rodeado por un mensaje de esperanza, que contrasta con la brutalidad con la que el gobierno de egipto está tratando con Zaky. Por otro lado, una advertencia a Egipto. Lo que sucedió a Regeni no debe suceder más. Tenemos que hablar, tenemos que hacer ruido". Laika habla con la voz forjado, no está claro aún detrás de la máscara roja y la peluca, se esconde un hombre o una mujer. "He Laika – dice – no importa quién está detrás, pero lo que está delante".

¿por Qué decidiste dedicar un mural para el Zaky?

"he Leído un montón de periódicos, en internet, en papel, tengo que hacer la revisión de la prensa cada mañana. Y me sorprendió ver que no todos estaban hablando de la detención de Patricio. Así que yo quería encontrar un fuerte impacto. Mi objetivo era detener a las personas y transmitir un mensaje. Si usted es capaz de hacer esto, estoy realmente feliz. Tengo miedo por lo que está sucediendo, Patrick es egipcio, el papel de Italia es más complicado, por esta razón, el pueblo debe movilizarse".

define un artista está trabajando?

"Definitivamente una parte de mí que es. El arte de cada tan a menudo debe hacer reflexionar. Ya el hecho de ocultar mi identidad, y lo veo como una forma de compromiso. Menos de la fachada y más contenido. Tengo la conciencia política y social, definitivamente no lo haga pero yo no quiero etiquetas. Me limito a tener, cuando puedo, tiene una función."

¿Qué?

"para comunicarse. A todos, de una manera democrática, especialmente en un período oscuro como éste, donde la gente va a informar un poco y en el camino equivocado. Él es claramente a la audiencia a interpretar, que es el primer protagonista de la obra. Pero ya se ve que la gente pase por, crear lo que yo llamo el "tiempo de museo", en el sentido de que toda la ciudad puede ser un museo bajo el cielo abierto, ya que es una riqueza. Yo creo que en este sentido, el papel de la artista de la calle es complementaria a la de los periodistas. Tenemos éxito en nuestra misión, cuando nos hacer reflexionar a la gente".

es también el cartel, que apareció en Roma, que muestra una nota, la refrescante chino, Sonia, cubierto por un casco y la máscara que dice: "hay una epidemia de ignorancia, debemos protegernos a nosotros mismos". Este mural ha tenido cierta resonancia.

"sí, ha sido una semana muy ocupada. En el caso de la obra dedicada a la Coronavirus, yo quería hacer la diversión en la psicosis colectiva que se está degenerando, por la ignorancia, en la sinofobia. Me gusta usar un lenguaje que es un sarcasmo en mis obras. Pero esta vez, con Patrick, no hay realmente nada a reír. Los padres de Julio, a la espera de la verdad 4 años y quién sabe si la va a tener nunca. La Italia de este tiempo debe ser fuerte, esta vez debe de ir todo bien."

"La República va a luchar siempre en defensa de la libertad de información, a sus lectores y a todos aquellos que tienen en el corazón los principios de la democracia y de la convivencia civil"

CORONAVIRUS is digitizing the art world! By Andrea Concas

Coronavirus: street art

fuori il mercato di piazza Vittorio a Roma

How can a virus push the art world to turn to the online?

In the moment of forced isolation, galleries, fairs and artists discover online.

From quarantine to the web: art professionals sharpen their wits to reduce losses.

How is it possible that a virus such as COVID-19, commonly known as Coronavirus, to which unsafe symptoms are associated, can somehow bring innovation and progress the complex world of art?

Well yes, we are going through an incredible historical moment that we could never have imagined a few months ago, with scenarios that see cities in quarantine, panic for supplies and also blocks of entry for Italians abroad.

Italy is cornered, with over 11 quarantined municipalities and cities like Milan literally deserted as if it were full August: canceled events, exhibitions and museums closed to the public by order of the mayor.

The news has just been communicated that the Salone del Mobile and the Milan Design Week have been moved from 16 to 21 June 2020, in conjunction with one of the most important art fairs in the world, Art Basel in Basel.

An event like the Milan Design Week creates an armature of about 220 million euros, of which 40 million are destined for the shopping and catering of those who arrive in the city, while the Swiss one of Art Basel is even estimated at over 500 million dollars!

It is evident that, in case of postponement or even cancellation of these events, the economic damage is enormous, especially for the art market where, the postponement of the auctions of Sotheby's, Christie's and Bonham's, the inaugurations of MIA Photo Fair or the cancellation of Art Basel Hong Kong creates losses which, due to their size and occasion, are totally, or largely, irrecoverable and therefore real decreases in the turnover of the sector operators.

And it is here that, while Italy is concerned with smartworking to solve remote work derived from quarantine and precautionary measures, here the art world discovers digitization and online to make up for losses.

Some might say "virtue of necessity", but in these hours we are witnessing a real race to digital where it is finally possible to participate in fairs, auctions and online vernissages.

To compensate for the cancellation of the Hong Kong fair, Art Basel will inaugurate a virtual fair on the same dates with an actual online show, complete with public and private exhibition halls, exhibitions and areas dedicated to VIP previews, offering a real platform for their collectors. The "Online Viewing Rooms" of Art Basel for this time, be free of charge for those who have reserved space in the Far East, while they have declared that in the future they will extend this initiative to all other editions and cities of the fair as an additional service.

The Italian Raffaella Cortese due to the prohibition by the Municipality of Milan to organize public events, for the opening Vernissage of the exhibition "Patriarchy is History", she has decided to have it told by the artist Yael Bartana himself online through the social channels of his homonymous gallery.

The gallery owner Emmanuel Perrotin has decided to open his smallest gallery, of only 70sqm, in Paris, whose peculiarity in addition to intimacy, will be a mega-screen projecting a selection of high-definition works exhibited in other locations around the world of its Perrotin Galleries.

It all starts therefore with the Coronavirus that brought the attention of the market and art world players to evaluate the strength, the opportunity and we hope the effectiveness of online and new technologies applied to art.

It is therefore hoped that something positive will remain of this dark period of history, just like the digitization of the art world and the possibility for sector players to be able to appreciate, grasp and recognize the potential of online for this sector.

Coronavirus: Rome mural tackles xenophobia

Coronavirus street art appears in Rome's Chinatown.

A mural tackling the ignorance and xenophobia surrounding the Coronavirus appeared overnight in the capital's Esquilino district, best known as the Chinatown of Rome.

The mural - by street artist Laika - features Sonia, the high-profile owner of the Hang Zhou restaurant, a normally bustling venue which has been practically deserted in recent days.

Sonia, dressed in white surgical costume and face mask, has a speech bubble which reads (in Italian): "There's an epidemic of ignorance going around...we must protect ourselves!!!"

The mural on Via Principe Amedeo, near the market at Piazza Vittorio, is interpreted as both a call for solidarity and a comment on the rising cases of xenophobia against Chinese people in Italy, out of misguided fears of catching the Coronavirus merely by coming into contact with a Chinese person.

The mural by Laika, who is known for her street art depiction of former AS Roma footballer Daniele De Rossi, comes amid reports of increasingly empty Chinese shops and restaurants in Rome.

There have even been reports in local media of rubbish piling up on streets in the Esquilino area as trash collection workers refuse to pick up garbage out of Coronavirus fears.

A bar near the Trevi Fountain recently created a storm of controversy by putting a notice on its door banning "all people coming from China" from entering its premises.

The sign, subsequently removed by police, was condemned by mayor Virginia Raggi who tweeted "Stop psychosis and alarmism."

Raggi followed this up by telephoning Sonia - of mural fame - to express her solidarity with Rome's Chinese community and to say that she would be visiting for dinner at Hang Zhou as soon as her schedule allowed.
